Villas Enter Top Townhome in the Moore County Parade of Homes

Pinehurst, N.C. (March 1, 2010) – It's that time of the year and the Moore County Parade of Homes starts today. Sage Built has decided to enter its top product, the Citori, in the 2010 showcase. Builders from all over the county have been scrambling to complete final paint touch ups, adjust all of the cabinet knobs, and sweep the last little bit of dust under the mat to get their homes prepared to be viewed by the 2010 MCHBA (Moore County Home Builders Association; www.mchba.com) panel of judges.

Judging for the homes takes place today. The panel will spend generally 15-20 minutes in each home entered, taking notes and tallying scores, for what they may and may not like about a home. After all homes have been reviewed, the judges reconvene back at HBA headquarters to total the votes and decide a Gold, Silver, and Bronze winner for each category of home. Winners will be revealed to Sage Built and other local builders Thursday evening, March 4th during the MCHBA's preview night for the partnering Home and Garden Expo (<http://www.mchba.com/events/home-garden-expo>).

The Parade of Homes is really about the public though. It is a chance for people to view the product of local builders and an excellent opportunity for builders to showcase what its homes offers to potential buyers. We expect for the Villas to stand out above the rest in the Pinehurst market. Sage Built's homes are approved Green by the NAHB Research Center (www.nahbgreen.org). This national certification at The Villas is the only of its kind in Pinehurst. We not only have some of the most beautiful granite countertops, top of the line stainless steel Bosch appliances, and rustic wood plank flooring, but just like a well made Italian Sports Car, we consider our homes high performance. They have all the bells and whistles of any luxury home, but they will stand the test of time and you are proven to live more comfortably and healthier in one of our homes.

The Event dates for the public are Friday, March 5th – Sunday, March 7th and then again the following weekend, March 12th – March 14th.
